Egg yolk is not for nothing is added to cosmetics

The Indian company Vav Life Science is now testing a new natural cosmetic component. An ingredient called Oleova prepared from egg yolk ... the usual!

What our grandmothers knew, now proved beauticians. Substances contained in the yolk, a beneficial effect on skin and hair. The reason - cholesterol, which in this component of the egg very much.

Indian scientists were able to isolate an extract of egg yolk and keep all of its beneficial properties. For this purpose they used the technology of cold treatment.

According to the Life Science Vav, existing research shows. that cholesterol is extremely necessary skin and hair. A yolk - an ideal source of biologically highly valuable compound.

Egg yolk oil - a good emulsifier, it improves the skin, making it smooth. In addition, it contributes to a better penetration into the skin of active substances, because to be indispensable in sun products.

Note that in some regions of Russia, a woman washed her head with egg yolk. This ingredient is still included in many shampoos and other cosmetics.
